Happy Holidays!

Dear Subscriber,

We hope you are enjoying the holiday season! We spoke with a woman yesterday who called and decided that as a Christmas gift to herself, she decided to sign up for an AdventureWomen trip. We loved that spirit - what better time of year is there to plan a vacation to somewhere warm and sunny?

Read on for our 2016 Holiday gift guide (and forward on to your friends and family if you want to give them hints about what to get an avid traveler!), trips with limited availability, and to learn about how AdventureWomen gives back to one of the communities we visit.

Best,
Judi, Nicole, Erica, and Eliza

AdventureWomen Gives Back

In this season of giving in 2016, we have been taking some time to reflect on how we can help those around us through philanthropy, and we wanted to share one way that we support women's empowerment, which you can see first-hand on our Tanzania trip in May 2017.
