DAY 2

Monday
4/13/20

Kathmandu

Kathmandu is at an elevation of approximately 4,600 feet in the Kathmandu Valley of central Nepal. The city has a multi-ethnic population and is a cultural center.

Explore Kathmandu

This morning, you'll explore Kathmandu as a group. You'll visit Swyambunath, a Buddhist shrine also called the monkey temple, Pashupathi Nath, a Hindu pilgrimage site, and Boudhanath, a Buddhist site. Soak in the hustle and bustle of this busy city.

Lunch On Your Own

Enjoy lunch on your own at one of the many local restaurants during your tour of Kathmandu.

Trek Briefing

Late this afternoon, meet your trekking guide for a briefing on the trip and a gear check. You'll receive your duffel bag for the trek, and the guides will check that you have proper gear.

Dinner

Dinner is on your own this evening.

DAY 3

Tuesday
4/14/20

Kathmandu to Phakding

Lukla is a town in southeastern Nepal, and is a great place to start your trek to Everest Base Camp. Although the name Lukla means “place with many goats and sheep,” few are found in the area now.

Fly to Lukla Wake up early this morning and head to the airport for your flight to Lukla. During this short flight you’ll see panoramic views of the surrounding mountains.

Meet Your Sherpas (and Yaks!) When you arrive in Lukla, you’ll meet your Sherpas for the trek, as well as your yaks which will carry your bags.

Pick up Your Rental Gear Pick up any rental gear you need for the trek today. Rental gear can be paid for in US dollars.

Begin Your Trek Start your trek today. Head to Phakding located near the river Dudhkoshi, which means “white like milk.”

DAY 4

Wednesday
4/15/20

Phakding to Namche

Namche is a town in northeastern Nepal. It is located in the Khumbu area on the side of a hill, and is a main trading center for the area. This is a good place to acclimatize to the altitude.

Trek to Namche

Continue trekking today along the banks of the Dudh Koshi River. Pass by many small mountain villages and cross several suspension bridges, including the Hillary Bridge. You will trek slowly to help your body adjust to the altitude. Reach Namche this afternoon.

Relax at Your Lodge

Once you arrive in Namche, take some time to kick your feet up at your lodge.

Namche to Khumjung

Take some time to acclimatize to the altitude today. Spending time here will help your body get ready for the days ahead.

Acclimatize Today

Take a short hike today to help your body adapt to the elevation. Walk to Khumjung, passing the Syangboche airport. On the way, you'll stop at Everest View Hotel for, you guessed it, a spectacular view of Mount Everest, Mount Amadablam, and more (weather permitting of course).

Afternoon on Your Own

Have an afternoon to relax. Check out the nearby monastery or explore the town.

DAY 6

Friday
4/17/20

Khumjung to Tengboche

Tengboche Monastery is the largest gompa, or center of learning, in the Khumbu region. The structure was built in 1923, was destroyed by an earthquake in 1934, rebuilt, destroyed in a fire in 1989, and rebuilt again. Tengboche has a panoramic view of the Himalayas.

Today's Trek Head to Tengboche this morning. You'll start by hiking downhill to the river, and crossing to the other side. Once you cross the river, the trail climbs steeply through forests and mani stones.

Tengboche Monastery Arrive at the Tengboche Monastery, which boasts the most magnificent view of the Himalayan giants: Kwangde (20,299 feet), Twachee (21,463 feet), Amadablam (22,349 feet), Everest (29,029 feet), and Nuptse (25,850 feet).

DAY 7

Saturday
4/18/20

Tengboche to Dingboche

Dingboche is a Sherpa village with a population of a few hundred permanent residents. One of the defining characteristics of the village is the kilometers of stone walls, created using stones that cover the whole valley. These stones are removed in order to plow the soil, and end up being piled on top of each other, creating walls.

Trek to Dingboche

Leave Tengboche and descend to Debuche through a forest of birches, conifers, and rhododendrons. Cross the Imja Kohla River on a steel bridge, and then the route begins to climb to Pangboche. This afternoon can be quite cold and windy.

Views from Dingboche

From Dingboche, you will be treated to views of Island Peak, Makalu, and another face of Amadablam.

Dingboche to Lobuche

Lobuche is a small settlement near Mount Everest, and is one of the last overnight stops with lodging on the trail to Base Camp. At this time of year you'll see hundreds of porters and Sherpas passing through Lobuche, making their way to Everest Base Camp, sometimes with yaks carrying supplies.

Trek to Lobuche

Leave Dingboche and trek through the high alpine regions. Cross the frozen glacial river at Thukla and climb as you enter Lobuche, admiring the magnificent views of Cholatse, Lobuche, Pumori, and Nuptse. You'll pass the climbers' memorial today.

Lobuche to Gorak Shep via Everest Base Camp

The settlement of Gorak Shep is named for a frozen lakebed covered with sand. The settlement sits at the lake's edge and is not inhabited year-round. Gorak Shep was the original Everest Base Camp.

Trek to Gorak Shep

Leave Lobuche and hike very slowly to Gorakshep. Along the way, you'll see the Khumbu Glacier. Once you arrive in Gorak Shep, you'll see Mount Pumore and Mount Nuptse standing above you.

Reach Everest Base Camp

After taking a short break in Gorak Shep, hike to Everest Base Camp (17,598 feet). Take some photos and head back down to Gorak Shep for the night. Celebrate your accomplishment with your group!

Accommodation Details

Yak & Yeti Hotel

The restored 19th-century palace houses two restaurants, several grand banquet halls, and the Casino Royale. In the lobby, granite floors, carved wood pillars, and gleaming brass and copper provide a suitably exotic feel, and through a wall of glass you can see the hotel's extensive gardens. All of the guest rooms are comfortable and nicely equipped to give a feeling of being home while away from home. It is THE place to stay in Kathmandu!

Trekking Lodges

The lodges you will stay in on this trek are small, simple tea houses. At some lodges, you will have en suite bathrooms and showers, at others, you will have shared bathrooms and no showers, and at the highest lodge, you'll have shared squat toilets. Toilet paper is provided for you! All of the lodges provide comfortable, clean, and basic accommodations, plentiful food, and boiled water. As you go up in elevation, the amenities at the lodges go down.

Challenging

We rate this trip as Challenging. Our Challenging adventures get your heart rate really pumping and are more athletic. These women's trips are demanding yet deeply rewarding and designed for seasoned outdoor enthusiasts. You should be in excellent physical condition, and be able to hike up to 10 miles per day, in steeper, more rugged terrain.

You should come with a flexible, adventurous, and enthusiastic spirit, and a wonderful sense of humor that adventure travel requires.

General Preparation Guidelines:

Training for your Everest Base Camp trek requires both physical and mental preparation. You do not need technical climbing skills, but do not underestimate the demands of the climb. You WILL need to be fit. Endurance, good cardiovascular health, and a healthy desire to reach the top are important.

We suggest that you begin focused training at 60-90 days before your departure, more rigorous training at 15-60 days, and then taper off in the final two weeks. You should consult your physician if you are significantly altering your physical routine for training.

We have a partnership with FitForTrips, a company that will design an individualized fitness plan for you with this itinerary in mind. Best of all, AdventureWomen guests get a 25% discount with the code FITWOMEN. Learn more at: <https://fitfortrips.com/partners/adventure-women/>

Packing List and Training: We will send you a comprehensive packing list, available rental gear list for your trip, and training guide with suggestions for physical activities when you register for your trek. Please let us know if you have questions!

Travel Medicine

Make an appointment with a travel clinic. There are no immunization requirements for travel to Nepal, however your local travel clinic may have recommendations for you based on your age, health, and past vaccination history. You may want to discuss altitude illness medications with your travel doctor.

For more health information, go to www.cdc.gov/travel and navigate to the page about Nepal.

Altitude Symptoms

At high altitude, it is typical for trekkers to feel some physical effects such as loss of appetite, fatigue, or headache. Symptoms become more severe if you experience acute altitude sickness. Symptoms of acute altitude sickness can include troubled breathing while resting, severe coughing, confusion, impairment of motor skills, and irrational behavior.

Notify your guide immediately if you believe you are experiencing any of these symptoms. As a highly-trained professional, your guide makes your safety his top priority. If he determines that you are suffering from an acute form of altitude sickness, you will need to descend immediately to a lower altitude with a guide. This could mean being evacuated by helicopter. Medical evacuation insurance is required for this trek.

Adventure Travel Today

At AdventureWomen, we want everyone to understand that our excursions are adventure travel vacations and not "tours." We define "adventure travel" as travel in which one actively participates, as opposed to a "tour," in which one is more or less a passive observer. AdventureWomen designs and organizes vacations all over the world for women who want to experience an active, out of the ordinary vacation, and meet new friends. Most of all, we want our trips to be fun!

good-natured realist and have a sense of humor! Adventure vacations, by nature, require that participants be self-sufficient, flexible, and able to accept situations as they exist, and not just as they would have preferred or expected them to exist. The constraints of scheduled group traveling also necessitate that each of us be understanding of and sensitive to others. Being on time is important, and contributes to the congeniality, success and well-being of both individuals and the group!

In this spirit, the successful adventure traveler should be a
