DAY 2
Tuesday
9/28/21

Tashkent

Though Tashkent lost much of its architectural history in a huge earthquake in 1966, rock paintings in the Chatkal Mountains about 50 miles away show that humans have been here since perhaps 2000 BC.

Explore Tashkent

Start your exploration of Tashkent by strolling through a labyrinth of mud-walled houses, surviving from the 19th century, to Khast Imam Square, where some of Tashkent's oldest monuments stand. You'll have a chance to view what Sunni Muslims believe to be the oldest Koran in the world, written on calfskin sometime after the death of Mohammed.

Lunch

Enjoy lunch at a local restaurant.

Kukeldash Madrassah

Visit Kukeldash Madrassah, one of the largest 16th century madrassahs remaining in Central Asia. Constructed of baked brick with only one façade decorated in majolica and glazed bricks, the madrassah was part of an ensemble that marked the center of the town.

Visit Chorsu Bazaar

Spilling out of the tiled dome that shades its merchants from the sun, Chorsu Bazaar serves as a place for locals to buy and sell anything from spices and produce to woodwork and embroidery. See bread being baked in tandoor ovens and visit the dried fruit and nut area for some delicious samples.

Culinary Master Class

Enjoy an introduction to Uzbek national cuisine at a culinary master class conducted by a renowned chef.

DAY 3
Wednesday
9/29/21

Tashkent to Khiva

Legend says that the ancient Silk Road oasis of Khiva was founded at the place where Shem, son of Noah, discovered water in the desert. Today, the city is a living museum of architecture and tradition.

Tashkent Metro Hop on the Metro for your sightseeing today. Tashkent boasts the first metro in Central Asia. Begun in 1977, each station has a different theme, some incorporating Central Asian decorative motifs and some resembling Russian palaces. With granite and marble, chandeliers and mosaics, the stations on Tashkent's three lines are meant to be "art galleries for the people."

Museum of Applied Arts Stroll through the exhibits, including the Uzbek embroidered wall coverings called suzani, ceramics, jewelry, rugs, and musical instruments.

Lunch Enjoy lunch at a local restaurant which specializes in laghman, a local noodle dish.

Textile Workshop Pay a visit to the colorful and vibrant ikat workshop and showroom of Uzbek designer and entrepreneur, Muhayo Aliyeva, and see how her sketches on paper are transformed into Central Asian fabrics and fashion.

Fly to Urgench and Drive to Khiva Take an evening flight from Tashkent to Urgench, and then drive approximately one hour to Khiva.

DAY 4
Thursday
9/30/21

Khiva

Khiva is an important historical site on what was once the Great Silk Road. The clustered array of mosques, madrassahs and tiled minarets within an area of less than 3 km give you a sense of how crowded and bustling this town must have been throughout its history.

Walking Tour of Khiva

Head out for a full day tour of Khiva. Start in Ichon Qala, the inner city, which is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. As you approach the old town, you'll see the same sight as the Silk Road caravans did. Visit the Juma Mosque, a masterpiece of woodcarving featuring 115 carved columns that support the wooden ceiling. The turquoise dome of the Pakhlavan Makhmud Mausoleum, built in 1810 to honor the patron of Khiva, has become a symbol of the city. Stop at the Kunya Ark and explore the 12th century building.

Have lunch at a local restaurant before visiting the Tash-Hauli Palace, the largest of the buildings in the old city. Built between 1832 and 1841, the palace was designed as a more sumptuous replacement for Kunya Ark, encompassing more than 150 rooms surrounding nine courtyards. They include a throne room, a ceremonial and banqueting hall with brick bases for yurts, and the khan's own personal harem quarters, beautifully decorated with elaborate blue and white tilework, wooden columns, and intricately carved and painted plaster known as ganche.

Afternoon with Women in Mahalla

Visit a village near Khiva for an afternoon meeting with Uzbek women in a traditional "mahalla," or neighborhood community. Mahallas date back to ancient times as a type of close-knit, self-governing district among neighboring families. Each one has its own council, community center, and leaders deciding civil issues and overseeing mahalla projects, along with a well-established localized culture, bakery, artisan workshops, bazaar, and mosque.

Khiva to Bukhara

Bukhara is as old as Samarkand and has preserved its ancient architecture and design to an arguably larger extent than Samarkand.

Train to Bukhara

Transfer to the station in Khiva for your train ride to Bukhara. The journey takes between four and five hours.

Explore Bukhara

An oasis in the desert, UNESCO-listed Bukhara offers cool shade and rest to the modern traveler as it did to the camel caravans that plied the Silk Road hundreds of years ago. Enjoy lunch at a local restaurant before visiting the Emir's Summer Palace. Known as the Palace of Moon and Stars, wild peacocks and peahens stroll through the park-like setting. Visit the Mausoleum of Bahauddin Naqshband, a 14th century Sufi mystic, which grew from a simple tomb into a spiritual complex complete with a mosque. Admire the early 19th century Chor Minor Madrassah, whose four slender, blue-topped minarets give it its name.

Evening Costume Show and Dinner

Attend an evening fashion show and folklore concert at Divan Begi Madrassah, relaxing over dinner and admiring the vivid costumes of the whirling dancers.

DAY 6
Saturday
10/2/21

Bukhara

Bukhara was an important merchant center of Sephardic Jewry. The term "Bukharan Jews" refers to a large community of Jews originally from Persia who lived in the lands formerly ruled by the emir of Bukhara.

Continue Exploring Bukhara

Start your day at the Ark Citadel, the original fortress of Bukhara, which is likely more than 2,000 years old. Just behind the Ark Citadel is the infamous Zindan Prison and the even more infamous "bug pit" or "black hole," the cell where two of Britain's finest Great Game players were imprisoned before their execution.

Next, stop at the Bolo Hauz Mosque, called the forty-pillar mosque because of the reflection of its colonnades in the pool. The Chashma Ayub Mausoleum is where the Koranic prophet Ayub (the Biblical prophet Job) reportedly struck the ground with his staff, causing water to immediately bubble up from a spring. Continue on to the Samani Mausoleum and the Kalon Mosque.

Puppet-Making Demonstration

Visit a private studio to learn from a master marionette-maker the process of creating traditional Uzbek puppets. The expressive puppets have unique faces and are dressed in traditional Uzbek garments. It may take seven or eight days to finish a puppet.

Meet Bukhara Architect

Meet with Bukharan architect over dinner, who will provide an interesting look into the current state of historical architectural renovation in Bukhara.

Bukhara to Samarkand

Perhaps the most well-known of Silk Road towns, Samarkand, fabled oasis on the fringes of the Kyzyl Kum Desert, has been settled since the 6th century BC. Because of its location on the plains where the Zeravshan River spills out from the Pamir Mountains, Samarkand became a major Silk Road crossroads.

Suzani Co-op Workshop

Venture outside Bukhara to a village studio specializing in the art of suzani, Central Asia's richly colored and embroidered textiles. See a demonstration of the process from start to finish: silk cocoons, dying, design, drawing, and embroidery in this home workshop of a multi-generational family who has been practicing the art for many years.

Lunch

Enjoy lunch at a local restaurant.

Samarkand

A World Heritage Site, Samarkand was once complimented by Alexander the Great, when he said: "Everything I have heard about the beauty of the city is indeed true, except that it is much more beautiful than I imagined."

Tour of Samarkand

Head out for a full day of exploration in Samarkand. Start at the Gur-Emir Mausoleum, which features a heavily gilded central dome. Continue to Registan Square, the centerpiece of Samarkand. The three emblematic madrassahs frame the square and loom over the empty space in the center. Stop at the Bibi Khanum Mosque and the row of tombs and mausoleums collectively called Shah-i-Zinda.

Lunch

Head to a very local restaurant to try osh, the well-known local rice dish. The lunch is simple, and the signs won't be in English, but this is a very authentic dining experience!

Visit a workshop where handcrafted paper is made according to traditions handed down from the 8th century.

Bishkek

Bishkek is graced with large boulevards, friendly people, and more trees than any other Central Asian city.

Tour Bishkek

Built in 1985, the House of Parliament Building was the site of the 2005 Tulip Revolution that led to the resignation of then-President Askar Akayev. Continue to Ala-Too Square, where the public gathers to celebrate - or to demonstrate. In 2003, a new monument, called "Freedom", replaced the square's giant Lenin statue. The Manas monument on Ala-Too square dedicated to the hero of the national epic Manas was erected in 2011 to coincide with the 20th anniversary of Kyrgyz independence.

Lunch

Enjoy lunch in a local home.

Continue Exploring Bishkek

The tree-lined Youth Avenue, where students come and go, is just west of the Philharmonic building, and is the site of Bishkek's first art installation, a huge pair of sunglasses called "Point of View." Next, visit the State Museum of Fine Arts, which focuses on art created during the Soviet period, and has a collection of more than 15,000 paintings, sculptures and decorative pieces.

Dinner

Enjoy a master class in the art of wearing the "beldemchi," a traditional Kyrgyz skirt typically worn by married women after becoming a mother, as well as the intricately wrapped turban-like headdress, known as an "elechek." Have dinner at the Supara Ethno Complex.

Bishkek to the Chon-Kemin Valley

The beautiful steep-sided Chon-Kemin Valley runs parallel to the border of Kazakhstan between two mountain ranges. The valley's population is mostly Kyrgyz, of the Sary Bagysh tribe, and many traditions are still practiced here.

Osh Bazaar

Bishkek's largest market, Osh Bazaar is a true sensory experience of sights and smells. Travelers can purchase local crafts, dried fruit, fermented milk, rice, grains, and of course the brightly colored Kyrgyz textiles.

Drive to the Chon-Kemin Valley

The journey to Chon-Kemin Valley, with stops, will take up most of the day, with a total driving time of approximately three hours. Built in the 11th century, Burana is one of the only existing watchtowers on the old Silk Road that traversed Kyrgyzstan and features a magnificent view from the top.

Enjoy lunch at a local family home en route. Continue driving through the Chon-Kemin Valley to the town of Tarsuu for an overnight stay, where you will be hosted by a local Kyrgyz family at a guesthouse.

Chon-Kemin Valley to Bishkek

Two rivers, the Alamedin and Ala-Archa, run from the mountains through the city of Bishkek into the Chuy River, which also forms the Kazakh border. On clear days, the permanently snowcapped mountains looming over the city provide spectacular views.

Morning with Local Women

You'll have the opportunity this morning to join with local Kyrgyz women to better understand three important facets of rural Kyrgyz life: yurt assembly, felt making, and the cooking of traditional cuisine. Learn how the Kyrgyz set up their yurts, the round collapsible homes that nomads have lived in for thousands of years. Enjoy a felt-making demonstration. Kyrgyz have always used felted wool to cover their yurts, and to make rugs, bags, slippers and hats. In 2012, the art of making these felt rugs was included on the UNESCO List of Intangible Cultural Heritage in Need of Urgent Safeguarding. Finally, learn how to cook two of Kyrgystan's beloved specialties, beshbarmak (meat and noodle dish) and boorsok (fried yeast dough).
