Under the name Saigon it was the capital of Cochinchina, a French colony, until 1955 when it served as the capital of the Republic of South Vietnam. The name of the city officially changed to Ho Chi Minh City in 1976, after the Vietnam War. The city was named after revolutionary leader Ho Chi Minh. Every fertile acre is farmed here, from horizon-to-horizon rice paddies, to fields of sugar cane and orchards overflowing with mangoes, bananas, longan, dragon fruit, and citrus. Generations of farmers and fishermen keep time with the seasons, using traditional methods unique to the region. Delta hospitality is legend here - everyone stops to wave when you simply flash a smile.
