NEPAL TREKKING IN THE HIMALAYAS: Annapurna Lodge Trek to the "Gates of Heaven"

Images of Nepal, its towering mountains and verdant valleys, its ancient cities, villages and exotic people, fascinate the world. Through the years we have developed a low altitude, comfortable, and less physically challenging trek (at 7,500 feet instead of 14,000 feet!) that is perfect for women who wish to experience the splendor of the Himalayas and explore this ancient culture. Our trek is lodge-based (instead of a camping trek), which allows for an easier pace and produces less impact on trails from porters and pack animals. The lodges are of modern construction in traditional style. All have private rooms and en-suite bathrooms, and offer excellent local food. After all, this is the top of the world!

The Himalayas of central Nepal are dominated by the gigantic Annapurna Range, consisting of Annapurna I, II, III, IV, Annapurna South, Gangapurna, Machapuchare, Lamjung, and Hiunchuli. Together they form one of the most dramatic and scenic spans of peaks found anywhere in the world. Challenging and diverse trekking experiences abound in these immense mountains. Classic routes and ancient passes carry trekkers over the shoulders of the great peaks. From Kathmandu, we fly to Pokhara for the beginning of our trek in the foothills of the great Annapurna massif. Trekking averages approximately 5 to 7 miles per day.

We also enjoy two days of rafting and relaxing on the beautiful Seti River, with two nights at the Seti River Camp in safari-style tents with fabulous views of the river. This peaceful, yet energetic and fun time on the water is a wonderful way to transition between our Himalayan trek and the next exciting part of our adventure to the Terai region of Nepal and Royal Chitwan National Park. Located in South Central Nepal, Royal Chitwan is Nepal's oldest National Park and home to the elegant Kasara Resort. Here we stay for a two-day visit and safari by elephant back into the world's best habitat for viewing the Bengal Tiger!

Next, we travel back to Kathmandu for two nights of exploring and shopping in this extraordinary city of carved rose-brick temples and shrines. The city reflects a diverse and complex system of religious beliefs, with Hinduism and Buddhism intermingled in Nepal in a way that is often impossible for visitors to understand. However, the gentle aura of Buddhism—which is not so much a religion, but a philosophy, a way of life, and a code of morality—pervades the city. From ancient Buddhist stupas (temples) and monasteries, Buddha's eyes look out in four directions, colorful prayer flags cast their mantras into the breeze, and pilgrims walk clockwise around the stupa while spinning prayer wheels set around its base. Throughout our time in Nepal, you gain a better understanding of the diverse mix of cultures and ethnic groups that make up this fascinating country.

TREKKING CONDITIONS AND PHYSICAL CONDITION REQUIRED

Please read carefully!

YOU MUST BE IN EXCELLENT PHYSICAL CONDITION FOR THIS TREK!

Our trekking itinerary is rated as moderately difficult with some high energy.

This means that you will be hiking 5 – 7 miles per day in a landscape that ranges from rolling hills to steeper and more rugged terrain.

Anyone in very good hiking condition will find this trek both challenging and enjoyable. You should be able to accomplish it at your own pace with the support of your porters and an enthusiastic group.

While trekking on this trip is not extremely strenuous, you must be fit and in excellent health, as medical facilities are generally unavailable in trekking areas. The ups (and especially the “downs”) are difficult on anyone with knee problems, so you should not come on this trip if you have bad knees. Most of the trail is made up of rock steps, and uneven ones at that! While a considerable amount of the trek is downhill, this can be as physically demanding as walking uphill.

The altitude in Kathmandu is 4,500 feet; our trek is between 3,500 and 7,500 feet, so altitude sickness is not a problem. However, almost everyone suffers some shortness of breath on uphill sections, and there is one day of steep downhill rated “high energy.”

Each morning, after an early breakfast, we set out at about 8:00 a.m., stopping mid-morning for snacks. We then continue trekking until we stop for lunch around midday. The trails are winding and well worn but are generally in good condition. Along the way there is plenty of time to explore the countryside and photograph the breathtaking Himalayan backdrop. After lunch, we continue to our overnight accommodations, arriving around 3:00 p.m.

IMPORTANT! Being in excellent physical condition for this trip is essential to your enjoyment as well as to your personal safety and the safety of the group. Although it is not necessary that you have extensive hiking experience, it IS necessary that you are in excellent hiking condition. We recommend, with your doctor's permission, that you begin “training” for this adventure A MINIMUM OF THREE MONTHS prior to departure. Step classes, stairclimbing, or walking or jogging on an incline will help prepare you for the hills.

If you need help with your training, visit www.fitfortrips.com/adventure-women.aspx. They can design a trip-specific fitness program and conditioning routine for you, based on your physical capabilities and the activity rating of the trip. Being in great shape will let you get the most enjoyment out of your adventure.

Although challenging, the trek will reward you for your efforts!

NOT INCLUDED IN YOUR TREK THROUGH NEPAL

- Round-trip airfare to Kathmandu.
- Some meals in Kathmandu and a 10% tip in any restaurants where the group meals are not included (please see itinerary).

 - Tips to bellboys at hotels (if you choose to not carry your own bag): $1 per bag.
- Optional scenic Everest flight while in Kathmandu (approximately $185—in US Dollars cash, to be paid for at the beginning of the trip while in Kathmandu).

TRAVEL DOCUMENTS AND HEALTH INSURANCE

Citizens of the United States must possess a valid passport and Nepal visa. Your passport must be valid 3 months beyond your intended stay in Nepal, and you need to have a minimum of 2 blank visa pages left in your passport.

You can obtain your visa prior to departing the United States, or get your visa on arrival at the airport in Kathmandu, Nepal (the easiest way). The cost of a visa on arrival is $25 U.S. for a 15-day entry and $40 U.S. for a 30-day entry. You need to bring 2 extra passport-size photographs for your visa and 2 for trek permits which are obtained in Nepal by our outfitters. It is also a good idea to take an additional 2 extra passport photographs along with you, in case your passport is lost or stolen. All totaled, you should bring 6 extra passport photographs with you.

You MUST have your own health insurance, and not have any physical problems or conditions that would be adversely affected by walking at higher altitudes and the rigors of international travel.

There are no required immunizations for travel to Nepal, but you are encouraged to check with your physician or travel immunization center. Although malaria does not exist at our trekking altitudes, it is probably best to consult your physician about malarial medications for our time in Chitwan National Park. Gamma globulin (for hepatitis) and tetanus are often suggested too.

If for any reason a person must be evacuated, a helicopter will be summoned and the injured or ill person will be taken to Kathmandu. If necessary, an onward international medical flight will be arranged. Be sure your insurance policy will cover you in such a situation, unlikely as it may seem. Any medical evacuation by helicopter must be paid for by the person needing the flight, prior to departure from Kathmandu. We recommend the Worldwide Trip Protector plan by Travel Insured. This policy has $50,000 of Emergency Medical Transportation/ Evacuation

ABOUT ADVENTURE TRAVEL TOURS

Please Read Carefully!

At AdventureWomen, we would like to ensure that all participants understand that our excursions are adventure travel vacations, and not "tours." We define "adventure travel" as travel in which one actively participates, as opposed to a "tour," in which one is more or less a passive observer. AdventureWomen designs and organizes vacations all over the world for women who want to experience an active, out of the ordinary vacation, and meet new friends. Most of all, we want our trips to be fun!

In this spirit, the successful adventure traveler should be a good-natured realist and have a sense of humor! Adventure vacations, by nature, require that participants be self-sufficient, flexible, and able to accept situations as they exist, and not just as they would have preferred or expected them to exist. The constraints of scheduled group traveling also necessitate that each of us be understanding of and sensitive to others. Being on time is important, and contributes to the congeniality, success and well being of both individuals and the group!

Thank you for choosing to travel with AdventureWomen! If you have any questions or concerns, please don't hesitate to call, write or email us.

included. We will send a brochure in your registration packet, or you can apply online on our website.

FOOD AND WATER

Unboiled water is NOT safe to drink anywhere in Nepal. Most hotels provide a pitcher of purified drinking water in each room; when in doubt, stick with bottled drinks. Local mineral water is perfectly safe to drink, or you can treat your own water with purification tablets. Ice must be avoided. While on trek, our porters carry plenty of purified water for each of us. And remember not to brush your teeth with untreated water! Uncooked vegetables are also not safe to consume, unless properly treated by soaking in a solution of iodine. Always peel your fruit.

CLIMATE

Temperatures tend to be quite cool in the mornings and evenings, and then warm up at midday due to the strong direct sunlight at high altitudes. The Terai Plain, where Chitwan National Park is located, is about 3,000 feet lower in altitude than Kathmandu and is therefore consistently warmer than the rest of Nepal. Climatically, the country ranges from subtropical to temperate and alpine. During mid-October through November we should have clear skies with warm to hot weather during the day and cool temperatures in the evenings. Temperatures steadily decrease during these months. Highs are in the low 80s F, lows in the mid-40s F. In the Terai, highs are in the mid-80s and lows in the high-60s.

Today is a busy day! After early morning tea and coffee served on your verandah, you have the opportunity to photograph the stunning scenery of the Annapurnas from several different locations around the Lodge.

After breakfast, we say farewell to the ever-attentive Gurung Lodge staff, and begin our trek back to the village of Chandrakot (5200 ft.), walking through forests with surrounding views of the valley and mountains. A half hour later we arrive at the village of Lumle, situated at 5300 ft., where a vehicle is waiting to transfer us to Pokhara and the Mt Kailish Hotel, just a one hour ride.

We arrive in Pokhara in time for lunch. This afternoon is free to wander among the shops on the lakeside or take a row boat out on the lake.

Pokhara is a remarkable place of natural beauty situated at an altitude of 827m from the sea level, 200 km from Kathmandu valley. The city has several beautiful lakes and offers stunning anatomic views of Himalayan peaks. The serenity of lakes and the magnificence of the Himalayas rising behind them create an ambiance of peace and magic. So today the city has not only become the starting point for most popular trekking and rafting destinations but also a place to relax and enjoy the beauty of nature. Paragliding and fishing attraction also has become popular in Pokhara.

Once at the Mount Kailash Resort Hotel in Pokhara, your extra raft and Chitwan luggage (which you left in Pokhara before your trek departure) is waiting for you, to pack for tomorrow's departure. Our tour leader provides us with waterproof bags. All items for our 2 night raft trip are carried in the raft in these waterproof bags. The boats also have watertight drums to keep cameras, sun screen, and any other small items you may need during the day. The remainder of your luggage/clothes for Chitwan is transported in a vehicle to the raft finish point. Dinner is at a colorful local restaurant.

Trekking time 2 hours

(Breakfast, Lunch, and Dinner)

Overnight at Mount Kailash Resort Hotel

www.mountkailashresort.com

Mount Kailash Resort is a newly built luxury hotel with all modern amenities. It is located in the heart of the Pokhara Valley beside Lake Fewa, close to the airport and colorful bazaars, and surrounded by the mighty Himalayan peaks of the Annapurna Range. It is a relaxing and tranquil place to stay tonight at the completion of our trek.

Day 10, Saturday, November 21 - Pokhara to the Riverbank Safari Camp

After a leisurely breakfast we leave the Mount Kailash Hotel for our 2 day raft trip on the Seti River. From Pokhara, it is a 1½ hour journey through scenic countryside. Upon our arrival at Damauli, our starting point on the river, we are met by our experienced boat crew, who give us a full briefing prior to launch.

The Seti River (elevation 1,000 ft) has no road access, so the river and surrounding valley remains pristine. Floating down the Seti gives us a chance to see village life along the banks as well as the abundant variety of birds. On the way to camp, we stop for a picnic lunch on a sandy beach. Today, there are 2 small rapids of no more than grade 2 (about 165 ft long). The remainder of the trip is very much a float experience, all the way to our river camp.

Rafting time is about 3 hours, depending on water levels.

(Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner)

Overnight at Seti River Camp

Accommodation at the camp is in comfortable safari -style tents, each with its own changing room, veranda, and attached bathroom with western-style toilets and hot showers. Tents are set up so they have fabulous views of the river. The camp is fully-staffed, with a central dining room that provides a veritable feast at each meal. The surrounding countryside is truly magnificent.

(Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner)

DAY 11, Sunday, November 22 - Layover Day at Seti River Camp

Today is just for relaxing at this beautiful, lush camp on the river. There are “treehouses” you can sit in and read a book. Or, you can choose to take a hike to one of the nearby villages. Many women from our past trips have found this to be a wonderful hike to the village of Darampani, about 2 hours above the river camp. Since no other trek companies hike to this village, it still remains quite untouched by tourism. 45 minutes above the village there is a spectacular viewpoint where you can see the entire Annapurna as well as the Manaslu Range of mountains.

(Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner)

Overnight at Seti River Camp

Day 12, Monday, November 23 - On the River to Kasara Resort and Royal Chitwan National Park

We spend this morning rafting and then journey by vehicle for 1½ hours to Royal Chitwan National Park. Our trip takes us through very interesting countryside and we eat a picnic lunch on our way.

For the next two nights we stay at the Kasara Resort, in the Terai area of Nepal, adjacent to Royal Chitwan National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage site. The essence of Kasara’s design is a blend of simple luxury in a lush and natural jungle environment. Kasara offers comfortably appointed rooms, carefully prepared fresh food, a range of healthy activities in a tranquil and inspiring environment, and meaningful interaction with the local culture.

The rich wildlife of Chitwan has been famous for centuries, and for the next two days we view wildlife from canoes, jeeps, and from the backs of elephants, who take us on safari through the towering grasslands in search of animals. Royal Bengal tiger, leopard, Greater One-Horned rhinoceros, gaur, four kinds of deer, two species of monkey, two types of crocodile, and 450 different species of birds all live in the park, adding color and music to the biological symphony in the jungle.

From the peace and tranquility of Kasara Resort, walks (escorted by trained naturalists) are an opportunity to enjoy the remote jungle. In addition, bird watching, jungle treks, wildlife viewing, and photography allow us to experience the wildlife on an intimate basis.

Overnight at Kasara Resort

Accommodations at Kasara Resort are in air-conditioned, twin-bedded, spacious rooms, each with en suite private bathrooms. There is a swimming pool at the resort. Each room comes with a private water-garden courtyard, a private garden, an indoor-outdoor bathroom space, and a sun deck. The resort’s proximity to the national park ensures a close interaction with the nature and the community forests of Chitwan.

Day 13, Tuesday, November 24 - Exploration of Chitwan

Today we have a full day of exploring the park and jungle. This is a day to immerse yourself in this natural tropical environment. We’ll ride elephants in search of game. The elephants provide the only practical means of transport into the area because the grass is too thick and too tall for exploring on foot. The elephant is the king of beasts in the Asian jungle and our elephants and guide are trained to find tigers and hold ground should any confrontation occur. Rhino are also often found around the camp. Naturalists will lead guided nature walks, and you have a choice of other activities throughout the day.

(Breakfast, Lunch and Dinner)

Overnight at Kasara Resort

Day 14, Wednesday, November 25 - Chitwan to Kathmandu

After a final morning of game viewing and breakfast at camp, we are transferred to the air field for our short flight back to Kathmandu. While waiting for our flight, lunch is supplied. Upon arrival in Kathmandu we are met at the airport and on our way back into the city, we are taken on a special tour of the exceptional Buddhist Complex of Boudhanath.

After visiting the Stupa, the largest in Nepal, there is free time for shopping (a favorite pastime of all AdventureWomen!) in this marvelous city of bargains. Late afternoon we are transferred to the 5-star Yak and Yeti Hotel, where we stay for the next 2 nights.

Dinner is on our own tonight in one of the terrific local restaurants.

WHAT TO BRING / HOW TO PACK FOR YOUR NEPAL TREK ADVENTURE

Baggage

We suggest that you use your own personal daypack as your carry-on bag during your flights to Nepal. In addition to your passport, money, credit cards, and airline tickets, your daypack should contain all essential personal items: toiletries, medications, one set of trek clothing, camera, film (or memory cards). You should wear (or carry in your carry-on bag) your hiking boots on the plane.

How to pack for this trip, and what is supplied

- Suitcase or duffel with wheels: You should bring everything you need for the entire trip in a suitcase or duffel with wheels: Your suitcase with extra, clean, clothes will be stored at the Yak and Yeti Hotel in Kathmandu while on trek, and will be available to you only when you return to Kathmandu after the trek, the raft trip, and your stay in Chitwan. Please make your own arrangements to leave your suitcase with the Bell Captain at the Yak and Yeti Hotel.
- Personal daypack: Use your daypack as your carry-on bag to Nepal and to carry while on the entire trip. In your daypack you should carry your camera, rain gear, sunscreen, some water (the porters carry the main supply), and personal items. If you do NOT bring your own daypack, you can use one that our outfitter supplies. However, if you have a personal daypack that you find very comfortable to wear and carry (and has a comfortable waist strap, so it doesn't put pressure on your shoulders), then you should bring our own.

- Trek Duffel Bag #1 (supplied): On your first night in Kathmandu, you will be provided with the loan of a trek duffel bag. In this bag you will pack all your clothing, personal items, and supplies for the duration of the 5 night lodge trek, and also your clothes for the raft and Chitwan portion of the trip. This is the easiest duffel for the porters to carry. It measures approximately 12" X 12" X 28". If you can't fit all of this in the trek duffel bag, then please use your personal day pack to also put some of these things into for travel to Pokhara, where our trek begins.
- Trek Duffel Bag #2 (supplied): On arrival in Pokhara, you will be supplied/loaned another duffel bag #2 (same size as your trek duffel bag #1) and you can transfer your clothes for the raft and Chitwan portion of the trip into this bag. It will be left in Pokhara and waiting for you there on your return from your 5 day trek. You will then take this with you for the raft and Chitwan portions of the trip.

Personal Items

- ☐ Passport — make sure it is valid for at least 3 months after returning from our trip, and has 2 blank visa pages.
- ☐ 6 extra passport photos: 2 for visas on arrival, 2 to use for obtaining your trek permit in Nepal, and 2 extras (in case of lost or stolen passport/visa).
- ☐ Watch and/or small travel alarm clock.
- ☐ Small flashlight with extra batteries and bulb.
- ☐ Sunglasses (90% - 100% ultraviolet and some infrared protection) and case.
- ☐ Contact lenses, cleaner, saline solution, extra eyeglasses with safety band.
- ☐ Money belt.
- ☐ Cash, credit cards, ATM card. VISA and Mastercard are accepted in Nepal, but be aware that credit cards are only accepted in larger hotels and shops.
- ☐ Address book, writing paper, journal, pen/pencil.
- ☐ Personal day pack (also serves as an airline carry-on bag).
- ☐ Water bottle. We recommend the 24 oz. Nalgene Everyday OTG Tritan Bottle. Made of Eastman Tritan™ copolyester, the bottle is completely BPA-free. Tritan™ copolyester provides excellent impact resistance and is suitable for both warm and cold beverages. Water bottles are provided on trek, but you may want to have your own for water on your airplane flights.

- ❑ Locks for your suitcase and duffel bag (when they are left in Kathmandu at the Yak and Yeti Hotel).
- ❑ Ziploc-type bags (at least a dozen, of various sizes) for packing shampoo or other liquids, or for wet, dirty washcloths/clothes.
- ❑ Personal toiletries in small leak-proof bottles.
- ❑ Biodegradable bar soap (can double as laundry soap).
- ❑ Washcloth (sometimes not supplied).
- ❑ Tampons or sanitary napkin supply.
- ❑ Thread, needles, safety pins for minor repairs.
- ❑ Insect repellent (with Deet).
- ❑ Wash & Dries or other antiseptic wipes/hand sanitizer.
- ❑ Your favorite snacks for a “pick-me-up” during the day.

Clothing

- ❑ Hiking boots, well broken-in. Please do not buy heavy, leather boots as there are numerous, medium-weight, high-quality hiking boots on the market. Asolo, Garmont, Merrell, Vasque, and other makes are widely available and designed especially for women. Since they are waterproof, Gore-tex boots, although a bit more expensive, are our first choice. Other boots should be waterproofed with one of the excellent waterproofing products available such as Nikwax. Make sure your boots fit properly and are well broken-in.
- ❑ Pair of tennis shoes or slip-on shoes for relaxing in the evening. Crocs or other lightweight sandals (Merrell, Teva, Keen) are also ideal as they are lightweight to carry.
- ❑ 4-5 pairs polypropylene liner socks.
- ❑ 4-5 pairs thick, natural fiber walking socks.
- ❑ 5-6 pairs quick drying underwear. You will want to wash out bras and panties.
- ❑ 2-3 pairs comfortable, lightweight pants.
- ❑ 2 pairs long (hiking type) shorts. The locals do not appreciate short shorts. You may also consider wearing a lightweight skirt while trekking, as this is what the local women wear.
- ❑ One pair nicer pants or skirt for our hotel stay in Kathmandu. Nice, lightweight, wrap-around skirts can be purchased in Nepal.
- ❑ 3-4 cotton bandannas for instant sweat bands and other uses to numerous to mention, some of which you never dreamed! Besides, it’s an Adventure-Women tradition!
- ❑ Field shirts: 2 long-sleeved and 2 lightweight short-sleeved, and a few T-shirts.
- ❑ Sweatshirt, sweater, or lightweight polar fleece jacket.
- ❑ Rain gear is supplied for the trek, but you may want to bring your own rain gear—poncho or jacket. Your

- jacket may double as an outer shell or windbreaker jacket for cooler weather at higher elevations.
- ❑ Sleepwear.
- ❑ Your favorite sun hat.
- ❑ Swimsuit.
- ❑ Extra shoe or boot laces.

For Our Raft Trip

- ❑ Teva, Merrell, Keen (or Crocs), or other sports sandals that can get wet and dry fast, and a pair of quick drying river shorts. Life jackets, helmets, and waterproof drums for your equipment are supplied.

Personal First Aid Kit

- ❑ Regarding foot care: To prevent blisters, many hikers use moleskin. However, we recommend bringing a small roll of ordinary duct tape as an alternative. Applied when you feel a “hot spot” before the blister forms, duct tape reduces friction better than moleskin. If you develop a blister, Spenco “2nd Skin” is a very comforting necessity. Also bring foot powder for moisture absorption; cloth, not plastic Band-aids; about 10 individually wrapped alcohol pads; and a small tube of Neosporin or other antibiotic cream.
- ❑ Aspirin/ibuprofen, etc.
- ❑ Cold-symptom relief tablets, antihistamine, cough drops.
- ❑ Sun screen and lip balm with sunscreen.
- ❑ Tweezers.
- ❑ Ace bandage.
- ❑ Antibiotics.
- ❑ Prescription medicines in their original bottles.
- ❑ Acidophilus enzyme (available in capsules in health-food stores). This often helps your digestive system get in shape for “new” flora and fauna.
- ❑ Immodium, Lomotil, or similar anti-diarrhea medicine.
- ❑ Pepto-Bismol tablets and/or liquid in leak-proof bottle.
- ❑ Emergen-C. Good for higher altitudes, and some people swear they get fewer colds on airplanes if they take this during flights.

Camera Equipment

For many women, photography will be a large part of this trip. We suggest that you bring the following:

- ❑ Digital camera, more memory cards and batteries than you think you need, battery charger, and adapter. Bring an adapter kit since multiple types of plugs are found in the country. Most digital cameras have a built in converter so you only need to bring an adapter. You can also purchase adapter plugs in Kathmandu.

The following can be purchased in Nepal

- Maps.
- Language or guide books.
- Local snack foods.
- Wool hats and sweaters.
- Local-style clothing in all sizes.
- Trek clothes such as gortex jackets, fleece, and down jackets.
- Western-style, all-cotton clothing, as well as cashmere and silk garments.
- Extra batteries.
- Post cards, stamps, and books in English.

Optional

- Small, lightweight binoculars (yes!).
- Swiss Army knife or equivalent with scissors (for cutting duct tape or moleskin if you have blisters on trek). Make sure you pack this in your checked luggage, and don't have it in your carry-on.
- Walking stick. Although walking sticks are provided on the trek, if you have a favorite telescoping walking stick that packs into your suitcase easily, by all means bring it.
- Pictures of your house and family (Nepalese love to see this!)
- Reading material.
- Video camera (beware of video taxes).
- Guide books. For general information about Nepal, the Nepal Insight Guide (latest edition). For trekking information, the Lonely Planet Trekking in the Nepal Himalaya (eighth edition) guide.

Last Minute Reminders

- Make photocopies of your airline tickets and the first 2 pages of your passport and put them in different locations (suitcase, carry-on bag, etc.).
- Leave a copy of your itinerary at home.
- Bring 6 extra passport size photos: 2 for visa on arrival, 2 for trek permits, and 2 additional photos to use in emergencies.
- Your valuables should be insured for the duration of the trip, but better yet, leave them at home. Don't wear expensive gold and diamond jewelry.
- Make sure passport, tickets, and visas are valid and in the correct name.
- Check with airline to reconfirm reservations and departure time. Most airlines want to hear directly from the client for confirmations.

Some Extra Items to Add to your "What to Bring" List
