

PACKING LIST - ICELAND WINTER

PACK YOUR BAGS!

The AdventureWomen team has curated this list for your winter adventure in Iceland. It is meant to provide packing guidelines, but please also think about how you travel and what works for you as individuals. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to ask! It's what we are here for.

Dress for the Weather

The weather in Iceland is notoriously variable and often very windy; you should expect daytime temperatures ranging from 10°F to 40°F. Good layers of thermal underwear and ideally fleece or wool sweaters in combination with a windproof jacket will keep you warm and snug even in colder temperatures. Good gloves, warm and windproof hats, and wool socks are important as well. Sturdy shoes with good soles – ideally hiking shoes are highly recommended. A hiking stick and crampon-style traction will be provided for you in Iceland, which will help when walking on icy paths. We also recommend bringing some chocolate or other small snacks for quick bursts of energy.

PACKING CHECKLIST

Clothing & Gear

- Duffel bag or small suitcase
- Daypack with rain cover - we recommend a hiking-style backpack between 20 and 30 liters with a comfortable hip belt. Your pack should fit several extra layers of clothing, water, your camera, and anything else you might want during the day
- Sturdy winter boots you can hike in - waterproof is preferred
- 2-3 warm long underwear tops (100% merino wool preferred, no cotton)
- 2-3 warm long underwear bottoms (100% merino wool preferred, no cotton)
- 1-2 wool, fleece, or synthetic mid-layer tops
- 1 down or synthetic winter jacket
- 1 pair synthetic pants (jogging or hiking pants work)
- Gore-Tex/waterproof hooded jacket
- Gore-Tex/waterproof pants (insulated or shell pants for snow)
